The Court made the follwing

COMMON ORDER:

Batch of these Writ Petitions are filed, seeking the following reliefs:-

(1) To declare the action of the respondents in not paying the salaries to the petitioners, as illegal and violative of Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution of India,

(2) To direct the respondents to pay salaries to the petitioners without reference to Section 116-C of Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Act (for short 'Act'),

(3) To declare the proceedings of the Commissioner and Registrar of Co-operative Societies in prescribing the format showing the eligibility of establishment charges i.e., pay and allowances under Section 116-C (1) of the Act to be furnished by each of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Society, as illegal,

(4) To direct the respondents to fix the salaries of the employees by taking into account 2% of the working capital without reference to 30% of the gross profit.

(5) To direct the respondents to reinstate the services of certain employees of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies whose services were terminated, taking into consideration of 2% working capital of the society alone pursuant to certain directions.

(6) To declare the action of the District Co-operative Officer in not considering the staffing pattern proposals submitted by the concerned Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies taking into consideration of 2% of the working capital alone without reference to 30% of gross profit.

(7) Certain Writ Petition have been filed apprehending the termination of services of the petitioners, therefore to direct the respondents not to terminate their services,

(8) To declare the notices issued for termination of services of the petitioners as illegal,

(9) To set aside the termination notices issued pursuant to the resolution of the General Body of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, resolving to terminate the services of certain employees.

(10) To declare the termination orders issued by paying one month salary or in lieu of one month salary, giving one month notice, as illegal and

(11) To declare the proceedings of the Deputy

Registrar of Co-operative Societies in approving the proposals of the Co-operative Societies which are submitted in accordance with Section 116-C(1) of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies Act as illegal, contending that the Deputy Registrars have no power or authority to approve the proposals in the absence of any delegation of powers, delegating the powers of the Registrar to and the Deputy Registrars of Co-operative Societies to exercise the powers under Section 116-C(1) of the Act.

2. In some of the Writ Petitions, the proposals sent by the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies for approval of staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances were returned by the concerned co-operative officers without forwarding the same for approval of the Commissioner as the said proposals are not in accordance with Section 116-C(1) of the Act and in some others, the same was forwarded for approval of the Commissioner. In some of the cases, either the special cadre Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies working as District Co-operative Officers or the Deputy Registrars of Co-operative Societies in-charge of divisions approved the pay scales, staffing pattern etc., wherever they are in accordance with Section 116-C(1) of the Act. The petitioners in effect prays that their pay scales cannot be reduced and they are entitled for the existing salaries without any retrenchment and without any reduction of salaries without reference to Section 116-C(1) of the Act. In some of the Writ Petitions, the proceedings issued by the District/Divisional Co-operative Officers advising the Societies to remove certain employees who are illegally appointed without getting approval of the Commissioner under Section 116-C(1) of the Act was questioned. The orders of the respective co-operative societies, retrenching the services of some of its employees who were appointed contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act by paying one month salary or in lieu thereof one month notice given, was also questioned.

3. The learned counsel appearing for the petitioners Sri V.Ajay Kumar, Sri D.V.Bhadram, Sri G.V.Shivaji and some other learned counsel have advanced their arguments on behalf of the petitioners. The Government Pleader for Co-operative Societies and Sri C.V.Mohan Reddy and some other counsel appearing on behalf of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies have advanced their arguments.

4. The different contentions raised in the batch of writ petitions are as follows:-

Batch of these writ petitions are filed against the action of the concerned Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies in not paying salaries to the petitioners on the pretext of amendment to Section 116-C(1) of the Act or on various directions issued by the Government and the Registrar of Co-operative Societies and also in pursuance of the amendments owing to rules and Act with reference to definition of working capital as well as gross profit.

It is stated that some of the petitioners were appointed prior to amendment to Section 116-C(1) of the Act and their service conditions and pay structure are in accordance with Section 116-A read with rule 72 of the Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Rules. Section 116-C(1) was inserted into the statute by way of amendment (Act No.21 of 1985) with a view to streamline the general working conditions of the society. As per the said provision, the society is empowered to fix the staffing pattern, qualification, pay scales and other allowances for its employees with prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies. The Secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are the Chief Executives and therefore, the Secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies cannot be appointed or removed without prior approval of the Registrar of the Co-operative Societies. Though Section 116-C(1) was inserted into the statute book in the year 1985, the Government did not take steps in consonance with the said provision and no permanent structure has been framed. As on the date of insertion of the said Section, the societies have been functioning with the staff which includes paid secretaries and other staff. At the instance of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies with reference to the fixation of staffing pattern as well as salary structure, pursuant to the insertion to the said Section, no concrete steps have been taken so far and therefore, the societies are compelled to engage various staff along with the Secretaries who had already been working in the society in order to allow the society to function.

By virtue of insertion of Section 116-AA, the common cadre of the paid secretaries were abolished and prior to abolition of the centralized services of the paid secretaries, the paid secretaries were governed under the common cadre regulations issued under Section 116-A. As per the said common cadre, the salaries of the paid secretaries are sought to be made from and out of the cadre fund created for that purpose. But the said common cadre regulations were not implemented and common cadre fund was also not created. Thus, the paid secretaries and other staff of the primary agricultural co-operative societies continued to receive meager salaries at the mercy of the societies as the State has completely failed to create permanent structure either in pursuance of Section 116-C or Section 116-A. The paid secretaries went on agitating for salaries akin to Supervisors of the District Co-operative Central Banks. Then, the Government entered into an understanding with the Union of Paid Secretaries and accordingly, accepted to allow the paid secretaries to take salaries on par with the Supervisors of the District Cooperative Central Banks (Cadre-V), keeping in view that there was no fair deal in favour of the paid secretaries though they are appointed under a specific scheme i.e., “Half a Million Job Scheme” and issued Memo No.5661, dated 14-10-1991.

Even after decaderisation in terms of special bye laws issued, the pay structure of the secretaries is not protected. Similarly, the societies had been paying the salaries to other staff based on their financial viability by engaging such staff as the Government did not prescribe any permanent staffing structure. Apart from this, the special bye laws issued by the Registrar after decaderisation has prescribed the staffing pattern which includes, Secretary, Accountant/Clerk/Salesman and Attender/Peon. So far as appointment of the secretary is concerned, it should be made by the Managing Committee as per the recommendation made by the District Level Committee. Since the paid secretary was sought to be allotted in pursuance of the decaderisation, the question of appointment of the secretary does not arise. So far as other posts are concerned, the societies are entitled to make appointments and accordingly, other employees of the societies are appointed. Even the said byelaws have created promotion channel from lower cadre to higher cadre. The societies have adopted these byelaws in terms of Rule 72(3) of the Rules. Therefore, the pay structure of Cadre-V employees of the District Co-operative Central Banks were revised, but at the same time, the salaries of paid secretaries were not allowed to be revised. To implement the Memo No.5661, dated 14-10-1991, Writ Petition No.16558 of 1992 and batch was filed and pursuant to the interim directions, salaries were paid in terms of the said Memo and the said Writ Petition was disposed of on 13-08-1996 with a direction to constitute a committee to consider the pay scales of the petitioners and allotment of their services etc., and pursuant to the said directions, the Government issued G.O.Ms.No.314, dated 26-12-2000, withdrawing the Memo No.5661 dated 14-10-1991 while leaving the whole spectrum of fixation of the staffing pattern and pay scales to Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies in terms of Section 116-C(1) of the Act. The petitioners are getting salaries in terms of the pay fixed by the respective societies. As per the said Government Order, fixation of the staffing pattern and scales were left to the discretion of the concerned societies and the State Government did not leave the issue there and went on issuing one or other directions thereafter with a view to prevent the petitioners from receiving their legitimate salaries to which they are entitled.

It is stated that Section 116-C(1) of the Act was amended by Act No. 22 of 2001 by stipulating that the expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of gross profit in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less. The said amendment was designed in such a way that the salaries of the staff working in a society shall not be paid unless said requirement is satisfied. Satisfying the said requirement is not possible in respect of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. On the premise of the said amendment, salaries to the staff of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies have been stopped from the month of March, 2002. Therefore, the petitioners are constrained to file these batch of writ petitions for a direction to pay the salaries without reference to Section 116-C(1) of the Act.

It is stated that though Section 116-C(1) and other provisions were upheld by this Court, but all these provisions will not prevent the societies from paying salaries to the petitioners and the respondents are liable to pay the salaries as long as the societies are continued to exist and services of the petitioners are being engaged. The action of the respondent in not paying salaries or reducing the salaries is a serious violation of the human rights, fundamental rights and violative of Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution of India.

It is stated that the society is a body corporate and ultimate authority vests in the general body of the society for fixing the staffing pattern, pay and allowances subject to the approval of the Registrar. The society is bound to comply with the requirement of the relevant provisions, but it cannot reduce the salaries or retrench the petitioners and therefore, the action of the respondents is against Articles 14, 19, 21 and 23 of Constitution of India. The petitioners are entitled for the living wages for the work done by them and the petitioners cannot be deprived of their right to receive salaries. The action of the respondents is cruel. Sri V.Ajay Kumar relied on several Judgments of the Supreme Court, which will be dealt at a later stage.

5. Sri D.V.Bhadram, learned Advocate appearing for some of the petitioners submitted that the Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Guntur approved the proposal submitted by the respective Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies for staffing pattern and salaries etc. The said approval by the Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies is without jurisdiction and instead of forwarding the said proposals to the Commissioner and Registrar of Co-operative Societies, he himself approved the proposals and therefore, the said approval is illegal and without jurisdiction. It is further stated that the society having employed the staff and having obtained their services, it cannot deny the pay pockets to its employees simply basing on the restricted conditions stipulated in Section 116-C(1) of the Act. According to the said Act, the expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less, which provision is impossible of implementation and bristles with rank absurdity. It is further stated that though Section 116-C(1) was upheld by the Division Bench, a W.P.No.5647 of 2003, was referred to a Full Bench as to "whether the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act in so far as restrictive condition that the expenditure towards pay and allowances of employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less are violative of Articles 14, 16, 19, 21 and 23 of the Constitution of India" and therefore as long as the Full Bench decides the issue, the respondent cannot implement the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act. It is further stated that the orders issued by the Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Soceities are in violation of Rule 28(4) and 36-B of the Rules. The co-operative societies are let into service not with profit motive but with service motive. Almost all the Co-operative Central Banks in the State except few are incurring heavy losses, but the Government has not been applying the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act to the Co-operative Central Banks and therefore, the Government cannot insist upon the implementation of the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act in respect of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. The Government cannot discriminate

the employees working in the Co-operative Central Banks, State Government and other Corporations, which are sustaining heavy losses, with that of the employees working in Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. The Society cannot hire and fire the employees in such a draconian way and when the work is extracted, the societies are bound to pay the wages. The society and the Government are to be blamed for the present precarious situation in not implementing the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act, Rules 28 and 36-B of the Rules and they cannot shift the responsibility on the employees making them scapegoats. 99% of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies are functioning in losses and therefore, the restrictive provision in Section 116-C(1) of the Act is not legal and it is unconstitutional. The Deputy Registrar of the Co-operative Societies is not clothed with any delegation of powers under Section 116-C(1) of the Act and therefore, he is not a competent authority to approve the proposal of pay scales and staffing pattern. In the previous Judgments, the absurdity of implementing the restricted condition in Section 116-C(1) of the Act is not argued and therefore, the said Judgments require reconsideration. In view of the restrictive provision contained in Section 116-C(1) of the Act, the staff of the societies are not getting salaries since April, 2003 and therefore, these Writ petition have to be tagged on to the Full Bench for a just adjudication and unless the issue with regard to the restrictive condition contained in Section 116-C(1) of the Act is thrashed out, the controversy of non payment of salaries to the employees of the primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies cannot be resolved.

6. Sri G.V.Shivaji, the learned counsel appearing for some of the petitioners submitted that the action of the respondents in not paying salaries is contrary to the provisions of Andhra Pradesh Shops and Establishments Act, 1988, Industrial Disputes Act and also the Minimum Wages Act. The petitioners cannot be retrenched and they are entitled to receive the salaries without reference to Section 116-C(1) of the Act. It is further stated that as long as the proposals of staffing pattern and the pay scales are not approved by the Registrar, the petitioners are entitled to draw their salaries. The services of the petitioners cannot be terminated and the wages also cannot be reduced contrary to the Minimum wages Act. Other learned counsels adopted the arguments of Sri V.Ajay Kumar, Sri D.V.Bhadram and Sri G.V.Shivaji.

7. The learned Government Pleaders for Co-operation Sri E.Seshagiri Rao, Sri C.V.Mohan Reddy, Sri P.M.Srinivas Rao etc., appearing for some of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies have submitted that Section 116-C(1) of the Act is mandatory and the Writ Petitions filed against the action of the respective cooperative societies are not maintainable and the functions of the co-operative societies are not statutory in nature and therefore, against the orders of respective co-operative societies, the petitioners have alternative remedy either under the Co-operative Societies Act itself or under the Shops and Establishments Act or Minimum Wages Act or Industrial Disputes Act. It is stated that the function of the Co-operative Societies cannot be termed as action of the State and therefore, the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies will not come under the purview of “other authority” for maintaining the writs under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

8. It is stated that some of the writ petitions have been filed only apprehending termination of their services and some of them have been filed against the termination orders which were issued by paying one month salary and some of them were filed against the notices, giving 30 days time before terminating their services in lieu of one month salary. It is stated that if any termination is illegal or if the payment of wages are contrary to the provisions of minimum wages Act, it is always open for the petitioners to approach the appropriate authorities, but the writ petitions filed by them are not maintainable as the function of the Co-operative society is not a statutory function and the societies are purely formed and managed by its members who are the farmers. There is no Government aid, and the societies are availing the credit facility from the District Cooperative Central Banks and the District Co-operative Central Banks are receiving loans from the NABARD.

9. The respondents have filed counters, stating that Section 116-C(1) was introduced by Act 21 of 1985 and the same was amended vide Act 22 of 2001 to regulate the expenditure incurred towards salaries and other allowances by the following statutory provision:-

> 116-C Staffing pattern of Societies – (1) "A society shall have power to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees with the prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies subject to the condition that expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed two percent of the working capital or thirty percent of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less".

The said provision has to be followed by all the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, District level Co-operative Societies and Apex level Institutions also. The constitutional validity of the said provision was already upheld by this Court as well as the Apex Court and the said stipulations are not new to the co-operative structure, as the Registrar of Co-operative Societies vide a Circular Rc.No. 5199/79/C-1(A), dated 15-3-1979, prescribed the establishment costs not to exceed 30% of the gross profit or 2% of the working capital. The said guidelines were reiterated from time to time and finally, they were incorporated in the said Act itself, which were upheld by this Court. The RBI., and NABARD issued similar instructions and guidelines of the staffing pattern and circulars issued by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies dated 2-1-1995 and 18-11-1995 were questioned on the file of this Court and this Court confirmed the same. The Government issued orders in G.O.Ms.No.314 (A&C) Co-operation-III Department, dated 26-12-2000, directing the Registrars of Co-operative Societies to approve the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances to the employees of the co-operative societies in accordance with Section 116-C(1) of Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Act. Questioning the said orders, the paid secretaries filed W.P.No.21488 of 2000 and W.P.No.656 of 2001 and this Court upheld the said orders of the Government in Writ Appeal Nos.424 of 2001and 425 of 2001 on 16-10-2001. It is also stated that the provisions of Sec.116-AA abolishing the common cadre for all categories of employees other than those specified under Section 116-A and on such abolition to allot the concerned employees to such of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies and Section 116-C(1) fixing the staffing pattern to the societies was also questioned and this Court vide Judgment dated 12-7-2002 in

WP.No.28473 of 1997 upheld the said provisions. For implementation of Section 116-C(1), rules 28(4) and 36-B were suitably amended inconsonance with Section 116-C(1), defining the gross profit and working capital.

It is stated that in so far as Nellore District is concerned, out of 199 societies, proposals have been received in 192 societies, out of which, 109 were approved and in respect of 83 societies, proposals were rejected as the said proposals are not in accordance with the stipulations laid down under Section 116-C(1) of the Act.

It is stated that it is the responsibility of the petitioners who are the Chief Executives of the societies to submit the proposals and get the same approved by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies to enable them to draw salaries as fixed by the Society. The criteria to fix the staffing pattern and the salaries will depend upon the size, working capital and gross profit of the respective societies and therefore, reduction of salaries or termination of the services of the employees by the societies when the financial position of the society is in crisis, cannot be said to have violative of the rights of the petitioners under the Constitution of India.

Wherever the proposals were sent, which are in accordance with Section 116-C(1) of the Act, the proposals forwarded through the proper channel to the Commissioner were approved. But, wherever the proposals are not in accordance with the provisions of Section 116-C(1), the same were returned for resubmission, complying the said provisions. The question of approving the defective proposals does not arise and therefore, the Commissioner of Co-operative Societies did not approve certain proposals. The Commissioner issued directions under Section 4(2) of the Andhra pradesh Co-operative Societies Act in proceedings No.9078 of 2000 K2, dated 10-8-2002 instructing to send the proposals in full shape. Accordingly, the Co-operative Registrars/Sub-Registrars/Person-in-charge have prepared the revised proposals keeping in view the directions of the Commissioner and submitted the proposals to the concerned Divisional Co-operative Officers. The Divisional Co-operative Officer wherever the proposals are in accordance with Section 116-C(1) of the Act, approved the proposals and the proposals which are contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act are returned. The proposals have been scrutinized by the District Co-operative officers in the light of Section 116-C(1) of the Act. It is stated that powers have been delegated to the Special Cadre Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies working as District Co-operative Officers for approval of the staffing pattern, pay and other service conditions of the employees of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies under Section 116-C(1).

10. The concerned Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies filed separate counters, stating that Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Act 1964 was amended by Act 22 of 2001, on account of which, Section 116-C(1) was inserted putting a gap on the maximum expenditure that could be incurred by the society. Section 116-C(1) lays down that a society shall have power to fix up its staffing pattern, qualifications, pay and allowances of the staff with the prior approval of the Registrar of Cooperative Societies, subject to the condition that expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of working capital or 30% of the gross profit, whichever is less, in terms of actuals in a year. Rule 36-B provides that every society shall set up the administrative and contingent fund not more than 30% of gross profit or 2% of the working capital whichever is less and utilize the said fund for the administration and contingent expenditure. The working capital and gross profit are also defined in the relevant rules. Section 116-C(1) is mandatory, as penal action is contemplated for violating the said provision against the Managing Committee and its members jointly and severally. The fundamental rights of the petitioners nor any other statutory rights have been violated, on the contrary, the financial viability of the co-operative body i.e., Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies is adversely affected by the acts of the petitioners. The petitioners being the Chief Executives have to apprise the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, the financial implications and pay and allowances being drawn by them. The petitioners being the Chief Executive Officers are duty bound to brief the Managing Committees of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies about the financial implications of such excessive salaries being drawn by them. The petitioners are duty bound to place the financial position of the society, the provision of bye-laws, Act and Rules for taking a considered decision on the pay and allowances to be fixed for the employees working in the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. On the contrary, in contravention to the provisions of the Act and Rules, Bye-laws of the society and poor financial position of the society, the petitioners have been drawing very high salaries equivalent to Cadre-V employees of the District Cooperative Central Banks. The societies are having loaning business and charging 2% extra on the loans advanced by the District Co-operative Central Banks. The society is expected to meet the cost of management of the society including the pay and allowances of the employees from out of the income derived from the borrowing funds from the District Cooperative Central Banks. On account of high expenditure and poor recovery, the societies have loan outstanding from the members and therefore, they could not pay the borrowed funds from the District Cooperative Central Banks. The societies are utilizing the borrowed money towards the salaries. On account of such situation, there is a likelihood of eating away the depositors' money of the District Cooperative Central Banks.

It is stated that the financial position of the society is based upon the pay and allowances of the employees, staffing pattern etc., and therefore, the aforesaid limits have been prescribed under Section 116-C(1) of the Act, read with Rule 36-B. The Union of Paid Secretaries have challenged the orders of the Government in G.O.Ms.No.314, dated 26-12-2000, issued for implementing the provisions of Section 116-C(1) and the Division Bench of this Court in Writ Appeal Nos.424 of 2001 and 425 of 2001 observed that "the Co-operative Societies are not run as Government organizations. They are not meant for carrying out welfare activities of the State, while promoting the thrift movement, it is supposed to earn profit for its members. The scheme and purport of the Act in regard to the recruitment of staff as envisaged in terms of 116-C(1) of the Act, is to control the expenditure to be incurred on the staff which has a direct nexus with the profit earned by the Co-operative Societies or the working capital". As the said provisions were upheld, it is not open for the petitioners to file these writ petitions for payment of salaries without reference to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act.

11. The Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are registered under the Co-operative Societies Act. The objects and reasons of the Co-operative Societies Act are to facilitate and strengthen the functioning of the Co-operative Societies based on the Co-operative principles and Co-operative identity. The objects of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are to promote, thrift, self help and mutual help among its members to obtain the short, medium and long term credit facilities for the purpose of agricultural operations etc. The loans are availed by the members of the Society who are farmers, for the purpose of seeds, agricultural implements and other cultivation expenses, purchase of cattle, cattle fodder, carts, improvement of land, construction of cattle sheds, houses etc., and as per the prescribed norms in the bye laws. The Societies are formed to cater to the needs of the loan facility at village level farmers who are the members of the concerned Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. The model byelaws of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies as framed by the Registrar have been adopted by all the Societies. The Societies are registered under Section 6 of the Act. The constitution of the Society is regulated and registered under the Act. Appropriate laws, rules, bye laws and special bye laws provide that the general body of the society periodically elects the members of the committee, which in turn elects the president or the general body committees elect the president for a specified term. The president and committee as the case may be, is empowered to appoint the officers, employees and servants of the society in accordance with the Act, rules and bye laws. The Registrar under the respective Acts, has the supervision and control over the working of the societies and its employees. The Registration of a society shall render it a body corporate, having perpetual succession and a common seal. The society is entitled to acquire, hold and dispose of property, to enter into contract on its behalf, to institute and defend suits and other legal proceedings and to do all other things necessary for the purpose for which it was constituted. In case of any disputes between the society and its members or the society and its officers, or employees, the same is resolved by an arbitrator under the Act and appeal there under is provided to the Tribunal constituted or to an appellate forum as specified. Jurisdiction of the Civil Court stands excluded in respect of the said disputes. The General Body of the societies are also empowered to amend the bye laws subject to approval of the Registrar. The agriculturists who have attained the age of majority and sound mind for whose purpose the society is registered are entitled to seek membership. Credit loans will be given to the members for seasonal agricultural operations and other productive purposes as decided by the managing committee or the general body.

Any member, who acted adversely to the interest of the society is liable to be expelled by resolution of the general body, after giving a notice to the said member. Ultimate authority of the society vests in the general body under Section 30 of the Act, but however, the same is subject to the provisions of the Act, rules and bye laws. The general body is empowered to act as per the relevant provisions of the Act, rules and bye laws. The general body is empowered to elect and remove the members of the committee, submit annual report to the Registrar, consider the audit report and annual service, amend the bye laws, expulsion of the members, approval of the annual budget of income and expenditure etc. Under Section 30(2)(xxiii) of the Act, the General Body shall approve the staffing pattern, pay and other allowances of employees of the society and contingencies, subject to the availability of administrative and contingent fund and approval of the Registrar. Under Section 31, the General body of a society shall constitute a committee in accordance with the bye laws and entrust the management of the affairs of the society to such committee. The committees are empowered to function as per the powers provided under Section 31-A, rules and bye laws. Under Section 34 of the Act, the Registrar is empowered to supersede the committee if the committee is not functioning properly or willfully disobeys or fails to comply with any lawful orders or direction issued by the Registrar under the Act or rules, after giving an opportunity to them, either to appoint a special officer or a committee of two or more persons of the society. Under Section 32(7) of the Act, after expiry of the elected period of the committee and if there is no committee, the Registrar or the Government may appoint a person or persons to manage the affairs of the society initially for a period of six months, which can be extended with the approval of the Government from time to time.

12. Under Section 44 of the Act, no part of the funds other than the net profits of a society shall be paid by way of bonus or dividend or otherwise distributed among its members. Under Section 45(2) of the Act, a society shall credit an amount not being more than 30% of gross profit or 2% of working capital, whichever is less, in a year to the administrative and contingent fund towards pay and other allowances of its employees and contingencies in the manner prescribed. Every function of the society is subject to the audit under Section 50 and also enquiry under Section 51 for the mis-management or mall-management. In certain circumstances, the Registrar is also empowered to direct the committee pending investigations or enquiry under Sections 50,51, 52 and 53 to place such officer or servant of the society under suspension. Under Section 60, if any of the officer or servant of the society has misappropriated or fraudulently retained any money or other property or has been guilty of breach of trust in relation to the society or has caused any deficiency in the assets of the society by breach of trust or willful negligence or has made any payment contrary to the provisions of the Act, rules or bye laws, the Registrar himself, or any person specially authorized by him either suo-motu or on application of the committee, may enquire into the conduct of such person or servant and make an order requiring him to pay or restore the money or property by way of surcharge proceedings. Where the society is conducting its affairs in manner detriment to the interest of its members or the promotion for which, it has been registered, the Registrar is empowered to wind up the society and appoint a liquidator.

The Co-operative Tribunals are constituted under Section 75 of the Act to decide the appeals filed against certain orders as mentioned in Section 76(1) of the Act and in respect of other proceedings, where the appeals are not provided under Section 76(1) of the Act, the Registrar is empowered to decide and pass orders under Section 77 of the Act. In any case, it appears to the Registrar that any decision or order should be modified, annulled, reversed or remitted for reconsideration, the Registrar is empowered to pass appropriate orders. Against the orders of the Registrar, the Government is also empowered to exercise its powers under Section 77 of the Act. The power of review is also provided on the appellate and revisional authorities. Under Section 79A(1)(c) If any officer, employee or a paid servant of the society uses or allows the use of funds of the society otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of the Act, rules or the bye laws of the society or commits any other irregularities, they are liable to be punished for their corrupt practices. Certain officers of the Co-operative Department are empowered to collect the borrowed amounts from the members by taking necessary action.

13. The Registrar of Co-operative Societies is the authority to exercise the supervisory jurisdiction over the societies to make them to function in accordance with the relevant provisions. The Registrar of Co-operative Societies is empowered to appointed supervisory staff under Section 116 of the Act to assist in the working of any society or class of Societies, subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed. The persons so appointed are empowered to have free access to the books, accounts, documents, securities, records, cash and other properties belonging to, or in the custody of the society and may also call for such information, statements and returns as may be necessary for the purpose.

14. The Government made an attempt to constitute a common cadre of employees even in respect of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies under Section 116-A, but, having realized the practical difficulties in implementing the common cadre for the secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, abolished the Centralised services by way of an amendment under Section 116-AA. After abolition of the common cadre to the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, Section 116-C was inserted by A.P. Act No.21 of 1985 with effect from 22-4-1985, which was again amended by way of substitution by Act No.22 of 2001, dated 25-4-2001. Thus, Section 116-C(1) came into force with effect from 22-4-1985. As per the said provision, the society itself is empowered to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees with the prior approval of the Registrar of Cooperative Societies subject to the condition that expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less. To get the approval of the staffing patter, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances, the proposals submitted by the respective societies shall be subject to the condition that the expenditure towards the pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less. Once the staffing pattern is approved, the society itself is empowered to appoint its employees itself, but the expenditure towards the pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed the above said expenditure criteria.

15. Some of the counsels appearing for the petitioners argued that the paid secretary is the chief executive of a society and therefore, the paid secretaries neither can be appointed nor can be removed by the societies without prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies as contemplated under Section 116-C(2) of the Act. A perusal of the said provision clearly discloses that such a condition is there in respect of such of those societies which are in receipt of the financial aid from the Government. There is no financial aid that is being paid by the Government to the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. Therefore, Section 116-C(2) of the Act has no application to the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies empowering them either to appoint or to remove the paid secretaries who are the chief executives of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies as the Primary Co-operative Societies are not receiving any financial aid from the Government.

16. Under Section 4(2) of the Act, the Registrar is empowered to issue certain directions from time to time in the interest of the co-operative movement or the public interest or in order to prevent the affairs of the society from being conducted in a manner detrimental to the interests of the members or of the depositors or creditors thereof, and the society shall comply with such directions of the societies.

Under Section 131 of the Act, the Government also is empowered to issue certain orders and directions in accordance with the provisions of the Act and in the interest of co-operative movement in the State as they may consider necessary to the Registrar and he shall give effect to such orders or directions. Section 129 of the Act states that Andhra Pradesh (Andhra Area) Shops and Establishments Act, 1948 and Andhra Pradesh (Telanga Area) Shops and Establishments Act, 1951 shall not apply to the societies. But, this provision is contrary to the A.P. Shops and Establishments Act, 1988 (Act No.20 of 1988). Andhra Pradesh Shops and Establishments Act, 1988 is a later Act and as per definition of Section 2(5) 'commercial establishment' means and includes Co-operative Societies also. Co-operative Societies were not included in the definition of commercial establishments under the Andhra Pradesh (Andhra Area) Shops and Establishments Act, 1948 and Andhra Pradesh (Telanga Area) Shops and Establishments Act, 1951. But the societies are included within the definition of the commercial establishments under Section 2(5) of Andhra Pradesh Shops and Establishments Act, 1988, as such, the later Act will prevail and therefore, I am of the opinion that the provisions of Andhra Pradesh Shop and Establishments Act, 1988 are also applicable to all the Co-operative societies including the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies.

17. Under Rules 28 of the Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Rules, 1964, the society is empowered to appoint its paid officer or servant in any category, who possessed requisite qualifications subject to approval of the staffing pattern, scales of pay and allowances. Any revision of the service rules or pay scales etc., shall be made by the General Body on the recommendation of the Managing Committee provided the staff cost and contingencies are less than 2% of the working capital or less than 30% of the gross profit and submit for approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies. If such fixation of the staffing pattern, pay scales and allowances are found in excess of the said norms either in the audit, inspection or enquiry, the excess so spent shall be recovered from the members of the managing committee concerned under Section 60(1) of the Act and the Registrar shall have the power to cancel such pay revision or modify it.

18. For the purpose of implementation of Section 116-C in respect of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, the Government also suitably amended the relevant rules and Rule 36-B reads as follows:-

36-B. Constitution of administrative and Contingent Fund:-

“Every society by a resolution of the General Body shall open a separate account into which an amount not more than 30% of gross profit or 2% of working capital, whichever is less, as per the previous year financial statement, shall be credited and utilized for administrative and contingent expenditure. Failure to credit requisite amount to this fund, and or any excess expenditure over and above the limits fixed by the Act shall be specifically pointed out by the auditor and excess expenditure if any shall be a charge on the Managing Committee jointly and severally”

19. After abolition of the common cadre of the employees of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies and after decaderisation, and pursuant to the directions to allot them to the respective societies, certain guidelines have been issued under Rule 72 of the Rules to allot the decaderised secretaries to the societies. An argument was advanced by Smt.Akella Padma learned Advocate that some of the paid secretaries are working prior to decaderisation of the paid secretaries and even after their allotment to the concerned Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, the regulations existing prior to the abolition of the common cadre of the secretaries shall govern and therefore, neither their salaries can be reduced nor their services can be removed. Certain guidelines were only issued under Rule 72 of the rules for the purpose of allotment of decaderised secretaries. The Registrar was empowered to decaderised secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies and once the secretary is allotted to a society, he shall be deemed to be the employee of that society and shall be entitled to receive pay and allowances as may be fixed from the funds of the said society alone under Rule 72(3)(a) of the rules. Wherever such of those societies were not allotted and until the allotment of the secretaries is made to the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, a clarification has been issued by way of an amendment to Rule 72(5) for the purpose of disciplinary control that until such allotment is made, the common cadre regulations existing prior to the abolition of the common cadre of secretaries shall apply for taking action against them for the lapses committed by them. Once the secretary is allotted, he will be deemed to be the employee of the society and the relevant special bye-laws, rules and the Act alone applies for taking action by the respective societies.

20. As the common cadre regulations have no application to the decaderaised secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, the Commissioner for Co-operation and Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Andhra Pradesh, Hyderabad, communicated the model bye-laws vide his proceedings in R.C.No.34483/85/C2/(B), dated 30-9-1985 to be adopted by the respective societies. According to the said special bye-laws issued relating to the service conditions of the employees of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies and as per bye law No. 2(a); Subject to the budget allotment sanctioned by the General body, the Managing Committee is empowered to appoint the employees of the society. The President is competent to issue the appointment order to all categories of the employees, such as Secretary, Accountant/Clerk/Salesman, Attender/Peon of the society based on the decision of the Managing Committee. The age of retirement of the employees is 58 years. The Special Bye Law No.12 deals with the disciplinary control. The Managing Committee is empowered to suspend or remove the secretary, Accountant/Clerk. The president is empowered to suspend or remove the Attender/Peon. Special bye law No.12(3) provides appeals to the concerned authorities. It is argued that the said bye laws were amended in consonance with the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act and other relevant provisions and the rules as the bye laws or the special bye laws cannot run contrary to the Sections.

21. Questioning the validity of Section 116-AA of the Act in abolishing the common cadre paid secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, Writ Petitions have been filed on the file of this Court and the Division Bench of this Court while dealing with the validity of Section 116-AA and 116-C and Rule 72 of Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Rules, 1964 with regard to the allotment of decaderised secretaries, in the case of A.P.State Co-operative Societies, Secretaries and Employees Association, Nizamabad Vs. State of A.P., and others[1] considered the similar contentions of the learned counsels that the effect of implementation of Section 116-C would amount to retrenchment. The said contentions were rejected for the reason that decentralization of cadre has already taken place by the statutory provision, which has come into force in 1985, and any hardship by reason of implementing the statutory provision itself cannot be a ground for declaration of the statutory provisions ultra vires or violative of Article 14 of Constitution of India. The provisions of Sections 116-AA and 116-C are not violated any of the provisions of the Constitution and no discrimination can be alleged, nor Article 14 of the Constitution of India would be violated thereby. Accordingly, the provisions of Section 116-AA and 116-C are held that they are not unconstitutional.

22. Questioning the Circular Memo dated 18-11-1995 of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies in issuing certain directions, writ petitions were filed. It is stated in the said memo that in spite of ban imposed on the recruitment of the paid secretaries, some of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies have resorted to recruitment of paid secretaries and other employees in violation of the instructions issued by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, causing erosion of their own funds and emergence of huge imbalance between members' dues to the society and the Societies to the Co-operative Central Bank. Pursuant to the said circular of the Registrar of the Co-operative Societies, the Divisional Co-operative officers were directed to terminate certain secretaries who are appointed subsequent to the said circular. Questioning the said action, Writ Petitions were filed and the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Polavarapu Nagendra Babu Vs. Commissioner for Co-operation and Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Hyderabad and others[2] held that: "The Commissioner of Co-operation and Registrar of Co-operative Societies has issued the Circular dated 18-11-1995 only to implement the ban orders, but contrary to the said Memo, some of the societies have resorted to recruit paid secretaries and other employees in violation of the instructions issued by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, causing erosion of their own funds and also causing serious financial and administrative complications, therefore, the Divisional Co-operative Officers/District Co-operative Officers issued certain proceedings to terminate the services of the secretaries and others whose appointments were made contrary to the Memorandum of the Commissioner for Co-operation dated 18-11-1995. Without expressing any opinion on the said circular, the Division Bench, while noticing the provisions of Section 116-C(1), according to which, the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are empowered to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees with prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, held that the societies are at liberty to fix the staffing pattern and the Writ Petitions were disposed of directing the societies to take appropriate steps in regard to staffing pattern of the societies under Section 116-C of the Act if it so desires. The action of the learned Single Judge in vacating the interim order which was obtained by the paid secretaries for continuing in service was upheld, by observing that:

> "It is well settled that if any order is passed against the condition specified in the memorandum banning the appointment during a particular period, such order has to be construed as an illegal order and therefore, such an order cannot be legalized through judicial process".

23. Krishna District Co-operative Credit Societies Employees Union, Vijayawada and others filed W.P.No.21494 of 2002 and Batch, challenging the action of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies in proposing to terminate their services pursuant to the directions issued by the District Co-operative officers and Divisional Co-operative officer concerned. The Writ Petitions were also amended questioning the constitutional validity of Section 116-C of the Act. The Division Bench of this Court (consisting of His Lordship Justice B.Sudershan Reddy and myself) while dealing with the said batch of cases filed by Krishna District Co-operative Credit Societies Employees Union, Vijayawada Vs. Commissioner for Co-operation and Registrar of Co-operative Societies, A.P., Hyderabad and others[3] held that > "A plain reading of Section 116-C would make it abundantly clear that the power to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees vests in the society concerned. The societies are entrusted the power to fix the staffing pattern, pay scales and other allowances for its employees with prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies. That power of the society and approval to be granted by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies itself is subject to the condition that the expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of the actuals in a year, whichever is less. Therefore, a limitation shall be imposed on the societies to fix the staffing pattern for its employees subject to the said conditions and it cannot deviate the said conditions. The power conferred upon the society is limited in such fixation i.e., subject to the approval of the Registrar and subject to the condition that the expenditure towards pay and allowances shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit whichever is less. There is a laudable purpose and object behind enacting the said provision as most of the societies have indiscriminately made appointments of its employees, which resulted in virtual threat to the very existence and survival of the societies. Most of its financial resources were being spent to meet the expenditure in regard to the payment of remuneration, allowances, pay scales etc., to its employees. The Co-operative Societies are not organized, formed and incorporated for providing any employment as such to the unemployed. Their main purpose is to cater to the need of the agriculturists for whose benefit they are organized and formed. They are meant to look after the welfare and the credit needs of their members. Promotion of economic interest of the agriculturists and rural artisans is the paramount consideration and of importance for which purpose the societies themselves are organized and brought into existence.

The circular instructions issued by the > Registrar of Co-operative Societies dated 2-1-1995 and 18-11-1995 themselves have taken note of these facts and it is under those relevant circumstances such circular instructions requiring the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies and District Co-operative Central Banks not to make any further appointments or recruitments of the employees were issued in order to protect the interest of the societies."

It is held that the said circulars issued by the commissioner have legal force and his power is traceable to issue such directions under Section 4(2) of the Act. Though, mentioning of Section 4(2) was not stated in the Circulars, but it is held that non mentioning of the provision of law itself would not vitiate any notification, circular or order, provided the power is traceable to the correct provisions of law. Accordingly, the Division Bench held that the Registrar has authority in law to issue the said circulars. The view taken by me in W.P.No.4213 of 1999, upholding the order passed by the Divisional Co-operative Officer, Kurnool, directing the President, Done Primary Agricultural Co-operative Credit Society to terminate the services of a clerk working in the society on the ground that he was appointed in the year 1995, violating Section 116-C of the Act; as the appointment made by the society was contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) was also upheld by the Division Bench of this Court in W.A.No.1043 of 2000 and the said view was concurred with in the case of Krishna District Co-operative Credit Societies Employees Union, Vijayawada Vs. Commissioner for Co-operation and Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Andhra Pradesh, Hyderabad (3rd cited). The Circulars of the Commissioner of Co-operative societies were upheld as they are only issued for implementation of the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act. We have also expressed the desire that the Commissioner for Co-operation and Registrar of Co-operative Societies shall issue fresh instructions in order to enforce the circular instruments issued in

Rc.No.6093/88 CP (B), dated 21-1-1988, for sending proposals, seeking prior approval of the Registrar as required in law to fix the staffing pattern and pay scales etc. We have also observed that the Commissioner is empowered to issue further directions or instructions in accordance with the provisions of Section 116-C of the Act.

24. The Andhra Pradesh Co-operative societies Secretaries and Employees Union also questioned the action of the Government in issuing the Memo No.59283/97/K2, dated 25-9-1997 in not applying the revision of pay scales from 1-4-1996 on par with the Category-V Supervisors of the District Co-operative Central Banks (DCCBs) as opposed to the doctrine of "Equal pay for Equal Work" and violative of the fundamental rights guaranteed under Articles 14, 16 and 21 of the Constitution of India and also questioned by amending the writ prayer to declare Sections 116-AA and 116-C of the Act as violative of Articles 14, 16, 21, 39, 41, 42 ad 43 of the Constitution of India, which was fell for consideration before the Division Bench consisting of His Lordship Sri Justice B.Sudershan Reddy and myself in the case of A.P.State Co-operative Soceities Secretaries and Employees Union Vs. Government of Andhra pradesh Agricultural and Co-operation Department and others[4]. We have noticed that out of 4,610 Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies, one fourth (1/4) of the societies are either running on profit or on no profit no loss basis and the remaining 3/4 societies are completely running in losses. The paid secretaries and other staff of the societies are drawing salaries on an average irrespective of the margin of the interest available to the PACSs., to meet the said expenditure. The high incidence, on account of establishment charges of PACSs., is about Rs.42 crores per month, leading to heavy imbalances in the societies every year and therefore, the very existence of the societies has become doubtful. With regard to the issuance of Memo No.5662/Co-op.III/2/91-1, dated 14-10-1991, we have observed that the Government having realized its mistake, rightly constituted a committee, vide orders in G.O.Ms.No.1338, dated 23-12-1996 to study the whole matter and to make recommendations after ascertaining the views of the representatives of the PACSs., District Co-operative Central Banks and Unions of the paid secretaries etc., and on the recommendations of the committee, the matter was further referred to the Cabinet Sub Committee constituted by the Government vide G.O.Ms.No.71, Agriculture and Co-operation Department, dated 25-3-2000. The view of the Cabinet Sub-Committee was that the paid secretaries should be treated as employees of the concerned Co-operative societies only and their pay and service conditions shall be determined by the Societies themselves after taking prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies as provided for in the Act and the rules. Accordingly, the Government issued G.O.Ms.No.314, Agriculture and Co-operation (Co-op.III) Department, dated 26-12-2000, ultimately cancelling the Memo No.5661/Co-op.III/1/91, dated 14-10-1991.

The said G.O.Ms.No.314, dated 26-12-2000 was also questioned in W.P.No.21488 of 2000 and the Division Bench of this Court in Writ appeal No.424 and 425 of 2001 upheld the validity of the said G.O.Ms.No.314 in view of the provisions contained in Sections 116-AA and 116-C of the Act. While noticing all the relevant provisions and the previous Judgments and also after considering the similar arguments that the decaderisation made under Section 116-AA and fixation of the staffing pattern, pay scales etc., under Section 116-C(1) would result in termination or removal of the paid secretaries from service, we have held the validity of Section 116-AA as it does not save from any constitutional infirmity, the said provisions cannot be said to be irrational or they cannot be characterized as discriminatory in nature. We have observed that the societies are formed by the people themselves on the principle that “all for one and one for all”. The societies are organized and registered under the provisions of the Act and meant to cater to the needs of its members. The societies are not meant for providing any employment to the unemployed. It is neither the function nor the duty of the societies to provide any job or employment to the unemployed. The society is bound to keep its financial status and availability of resources in view, while making the appointment as well as fixing the staffing pattern, pay scales and other allowances for its employees. The societies cannot be permitted to indiscriminately appoint the employees and fix their pay scales and other allowances without having any due regard to its financial resources. Having regard to the experience that some societies have altogether vanished into thin air on account of such indiscriminate appointments and fixation of pay scales and other allowances, the Legislature has stepped in and put an embargo upon the societies not to incur expenditure towards the pay and allowances of the employees not exceeding 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less. The object is a laudable one. The provision is obviously amended in order to protect the interest of the societies and to save them from further financial ruination." The bird's eye view of the Act, as stated in para 68 is extracted below:-

> "The Co-operative societies registered under the provisions of the Act are not the satellites of the Government or the Registrar of the Co-operative societies. The Government and the Registrar of Co-operative societies are entitled to issue such orders and directions in accordance with the provisions of the Act only and in the interest of the Co-operative movement in the State or public interest or in the interest of the members of the society itself. Except to that extent, neither the Government nor the Registrar of the Co-operative societies has any power or authority to interfere in the day-to-day management and affairs of the society. The Government, obviously, appears to have realized its limitation and mistakes it had committed by unnecessarily interfering in the affairs jof Societies, more particularly in the matter of fixation of pay scales and other allowances of the Paid Secretaries and accordingly issued G.O.Ms.No.314, dated 26-12-2000 which has received the approval of this Court. In the same process, steps were taken to substitute Section 116-C of the Act in order to protect the interest of the societies and its members and to prevent the societies from indulging in extravagant expenditure towards the salaries and other allowances payable to its employees. By no stretch of imagination, the provision could be characterized as an irrational one".

The constitutional validity of Section 116-C has been upheld by the said Division Bench on the ground that there is no lack of legislative competency or inconsistency with or derogation of fundamental rights guaranteed by the Constitution or of any other constitutional provision. The said provision under Section 116-C was also not violative of the provisions of Constitution of India. Accordingly, we have held that the members of the Paid Secretaries Employees Union are not entitled for any pay scales or the revision of pay scales on par with Category-V Supervisors of District Co-operative Central Banks. They cannot equate themselves with any other employees including category-V Supervisors of the DCCBs. The Paid Secretaries are the employees of the concerned society. The society with the prior approval of the Registrar is empowered and entitled to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees subject to the condition that the expenditure towards pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed two per cent of the working capital or 30 per cent of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less.

25. The same Andhra Pradesh State Co-operative Societies Secretaries and Employees Union, filed W.P.No.3706 of 2002 a reported case in A.P.State Co-operative Societies Secretaries and Employees Union Vs. Government of Andhra Pradesh and others[5], seeking a direction to the respondents not to apply in any manner the provisions of A.P., Co-operative societies Amendment Act 22/2001 with a retrospective effect and not to take any coercive steps by way of recoveries or fixation of salaries. The learned Single Judge of this Court allowed the Writ Petition, against which, Writ Appeals were filed and the Division Bench of this Court in the case of Government of Andhra Pradesh Vs. A.P., State Co-operative

Societies Secretaries and Employees Union and others[6], set-aside the said Judgment, dismissing the writ petitions. The Division Bench disposing of the Writ Appeals and another connected W.P.No.8522 of 2003 observed that the Memo of the Government dated 14-10-1991 was kept in abeyance by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies vide orders dated 14-2-1992 and the interim orders granted by this Court have got themselves merged into the final orders whereunder no relief as such has been granted by this court conferring any right upon the Paid Secretaries/employees of PACSs to draw any particular emolument or pay scales as such. The present pay scales and allowances that are being drawn by the paid secretaries were not fixed by the society concerned after abolition of the common cadre, nor the pay scales and allowances were fixed under any statutory provision, but were fixed and drawn by themselves under the Memo dated 14-10-1991, which is void and inoperative. Accordingly, the Division Bench held that the notices issued for recovery of excess pay cannot be questioned and they do not suffer from any illegality. All the authorities including the PACSs., are bound to implement the statutory provisions and accordingly fix the pay and allowances and other emoluments payable to its employees in accordance with Section 116-C of the Act. The societies are entitled to fix the salary, emoluments and other allowances of its employees in accordance with law even for the period before incorporation of Section 116-C and its subsequent amendment by Amendment Act 22 of 2001. The emoluments, pay scales and allowances that are to be fixed in respect of each of the employees by each of the societies may depend upon variety of facts and circumstances so far as they relate to the period prior to Section 116-C of the Act coming into operation with effect from 22-4-1985 is concerned. So far as such fixation after 22-4-1985 is concerned, the same is to be in accordance with the mandatory requirement under Section 116-C of the Act. The quantum of amounts to be recovered from each one of the employees of the society concerned depends upon such fixation of pay scales, emoluments and other allowances. It shall always be open to an aggrieved employee to raise a dispute about the quantum of the amount if any, sought to be recovered from such employee after such fixation. Each of the proceedings proposing to recover the amount, if any, from each of the employees, is required to contain the complete details as to how the amounts sought to be recovered are arrived at. It is further observed that the societies are not employment generating units, but have been formed for the welfare of its members. It is unfortunate that the State Government in its anxiety to cajole the members of the Union went on entering into settlements and agreements without any notice and approval of the Societies concerned involving them with extra financial burden. After fixing the pay scales by the societies, the societies are entitled to recover the excess of pay scales for which they are legitimately entitled to.

26. The question now arises for consideration as to whether the petitioners are entitled for the pay and other allowances even without fixing the staffing pattern, pay scales and other allowances with prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative societies subject to the condition that the expenditure towards the pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less.

27. Admittedly in most of the cases, the concerned societies have not fixed the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees and obtained the prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative societies. To obtain the prior approval, the societies must necessarily follows the conditions imposed in Section 116-C(1) that the expenditure towards the pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a years whichever is less. For some of the societies, approval has been obtained and the employees of the societies are being paid the allowances with regard to the staffing pattern as fixed by the society and approved by the Registrar. In respect of other societies, wherever the societies have not fixed the staffing pattern, pay scales and other allowances and have not obtained the prior approval of the Registrar, the societies have stopped payment of salaries to its employees.

28. In the case of D.V.N.Linga Reddy Vs. Vasavi Co-operative Urban Bank Limited, Hyderabad and another[7], wherein the services of the employees of Co-operative societies were terminated by paying one month salary as required under Section 47 of the Andhra pradesh Shops and Establishments Act, 1988 in compliance with the provisions under Section 116-C of the Act and the staffing pattern provided there under were existed. An argument was advanced that for retrenching the employees, prior approval of the Registrar is required. While dealing with the said contention, this Court held that there is nothing indicated in Section 116-C of the Act that the prior approval of the Registrar is necessary to retrench any employee of a society. Approval is needed only for the purpose of fixing the staffing pattern. Once the staffing pattern is approved, prior approval of the Registrar is not required for retrenchment or for appointment of a particular employee in the approved post of the staffing pattern.

With regard to the non-compliance of the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, Shops and Establishments Act, the learned Single Judge held that it is for them to make out their remedies in accordance with the provisions of A.P., Shops and Establishments Act, 1988 or Industrial Disputes Act as the case may be.

29. For the aforesaid reasons and in view of the Judgments cited above, I am of the opinion that as long as the society fixes the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees and obtains approval of the Registrar of Co-operative societies and such expenditure to be incurred by the society towards the pay and allowances for its employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of the actuals in a year whichever is less; the employees of the society are not entitled to draw any salaries contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C of the Act and the guidelines issued by the Registrar of Co-operative societies from time to time for implementation of the provisions of Section 116-C(1).

30. Section 116-C(1) is mandatory in its nature. For violation of said provisions and for exceeding the expenditure as stipulated under Section 116-C(1) of the Act, there will be a charge on the members of Managing Committee jointly and severally and also they are liable for penal action. If the employees are allowed to draw the salaries contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C, not only the paid secretaries and its employees are liable for disciplinary action to be taken against them, but also the Managing Committee members/ person in-charge are liable for the surcharge proceedings and penal action. Therefore, I am of the opinion that Section 116-C is mandatory and the petitioners are not entitled to draw salaries without reference to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) and also contrary to the circulars and guide lines issued by the Commissioner from time to time. To get the approval of the staffing pattern, pay scales and other allowances for its employees, the societies must follow the condition that the expenditure towards pay and allowances shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less.

The Commissioner and Registrar of Co-operative societies issued guidelines in circular Rc.No.9078 of 2000-K2, dated 10-8-2002 for the action to be taken in respect of the matter relating to the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for the employees of the societies in accordance with the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act while drawing the attention of the Managing Committees of the PACs., to fix the staffing pattern, pay scales of the employees of PACS., in accordance with the norms prescribed under Section 116-C(1) of the Act and to ensure smooth functioning of the PACS. Certain directions have been issued by the Registrar in the said circular in exercise of his powers under Section 4(2) of the Act. He directed all the Managing Committees of PACs., to fix-up the staffing pattern, pay scales and other allowances of is employees under Section 116-C(1) of the Act within 45 days from the date of issuance of said directions. The directions issued thereunder at Sl.Nos.1 and 2 reads as follows:-

1) The Managing Committees of PACS shall fix the staffing pattern and pay scales of their employees in accordance with section 116-C of the APCS Act 7 of 1964 and submit proposals to the Registrar of Co-operative societies, A.P., Hyderabad for approval within 45 days from the date of receipt of this order.

2) If any PACS does not comply with the Rules it will not be permitted to incur expenditure on staff and establishment beyond the time limit prescribed above. Every PACS must open a separate account in the DCCBs concerned in which the margins earned from business shall be credited for purpose of meeting the staff cost. In this account the margins earned by the PACS have to be credited and salary and staff costs and contingencies have to be met from these margins only. The other receipts such as loan amounts recovered should be credited to the DCCBs as that money belongs to the DCCBs.

In case any society incurs expenditure and staff cost over and above the margin earned by the society, straightaway action will be initiated against management's of PACS for diversion of funds.

As per the recent amendment made to section 116-C every society has to determine its staffing pattern, review its existing employees strength and give details of their pay scales etc., and seek approval of the Registrar within a time frame as prescribed in the Rules. The managing Committee of the PACS which do not comply with the Act and Rules and these directions will be made responsible for incurring any expenditure without the approval of the Registrar.

The proposals in this regard are to be submitted by the managing committees of PACS within 45 days for approval of the Registrar. In case the managing committees of PACS fail to submit the proposals to the Registrar of Co-operative Societies within the time limit action will be taken against them for non compliance with statutory provisions".

As long as the societies comply with the provisions of Section 166-C(1) of the Act and relevant rules, bye-laws and special bye-laws and the directions issued by the Government and Commissioner from time to time for implementation of Section 116-C(1), I am of the opinion that the petitioners are not entitled to spend money for their salaries exceeding 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of the actuals in a year whichever is less. Any payment of such salaries will be contrary to Section 116-C, which is mandatory in nature and it has been upheld in more than two cases by different Division Benches of this Court.

31. The argument of the petitioners is that the action of the respondents in not paying the salaries for some and paying the salaries to some others less than the wages prescribed under the Minimum Wages Act is contrary to the provisions of Minimum Wages Act and also the action of the respondent in retrenching the employees of the societies is contrary to the A.P., Co-operative societies Act and A.P Shops and Establishments Act, 1988 and Industrial Disputes Act.

32. MINIMUM WAGES ACT:- The Minimum Wages Act is to provide fixing the minimum rates of wages for certain employees. The Scheduled Employment is defined under Section 2(g), which means an employment specified in the schedule or any process or any branch of work forming part of such employment. Under Section 12 of the Minimum Wages Act; "Where in respect of any scheduled employment a notification under Section 5 is in force, the employer shall pay to every employee engaged in a scheduled employment under him, wages, at a rate not less than the minimum rate of wages fixed by such notification for that class of employees in that employment without any deductions except as may be authorized within such time and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed".

If the minimum wages are not paid, the employer is liable to penal action under Sections 22 and 22A of the Act. Under Section 27, the appropriate government is empowered to add any employment in the Schedule Employment applying the minimum rates of wages fixed under the Act and upon issue of such notification, it shall be deemed that the schedule issued pursuant to Sections 2(g) and 27 of the Act is accordingly amended.

The Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies are not included in the schedule. But the Government issued orders in G.O.Ms.No.82, Labour, Employment, Training and Factories (Lab.II), dated 2-12-2000, with effect from 29-3-2001 that the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies are also included in the schedule. As per the said notification, the minimum basic pay plus value of the Dearness Allowance is Rs.4,185.50 Ps for a secretary. The wages of a Supervisor is Rs.3,268.50 Ps., Typist is Rs.3,268-50 Ps., Cashier is Rs.2,906.50 Ps., Clerk is Rs.2,906.50 Ps., and for Attender/Peon/ Watchman/Office Boy Sweeper/Scavenger is Rs.2,730-50 Ps. It is stated that as long as the petitioners are working in the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies, the societies are bound to implement the minimum wages Act by paying wages prescribed under the Minimum Wages Act.

As regards this contention, I am of the opinion that as long as the staffing pattern and pay scales are fixed by the society and approved by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies subject to the condition that such expenditure shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of the actuals in a year whichever is less, the petitioners are not entitled to get the enforcement of Minimum Wages Act de horse the Section 116-C(1) of the Act, as their employment is illegal. Only after fixing of the staffing pattern, pay scales, and after regularizing their services, they are entitled to get the benefit of the provisions of Minimum Wages Act. No doubt, the Minimum Wages Act is a Central enactment and the State government in exercise of its powers issued notification including the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies also in the Schedule, making applicable to Minimum wages, but as long as the societies appoint its employees in confirmity with Section 116-C, the question of seeking redressal for payment of minimum wages under the Minimum Wages Act does not arise. Therefore, it is one of the reasons as to why the society is bound to implement the provisions of Section 116-C, keeping in view the mandatory provision contained in Section 116-C(1) and also the payment of wages under Minimum Wages Act. However, if any minimum wages are not paid, it is for the concerned employees to approach the authorities under the Minimum Wages Act for appropriate relief.

33. INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES ACT AND THE A.P. SHOPS AND ESTABLISHMENTS ACT:- The next question that arises as to whether the Industrial Disputes Act applies to the Secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies. Industry is defined under Section 2(j) of the Industrial Disputes Act. “Industry means any business, trade, undertaking, manufacture or calling of employers and includes any calling service, employment handicraft or industrial occupation or avocation of workmen”. There is a systematic activity carried on by the co-operation between the Primary Agricultural Cooperative societies and its workmen (employees) for rendering service to the farmers who are members of the society, giving them credit facility by getting the advance from the District Co-operative Central Banks and earning 2% of the interest over and above the interest charged by the District Co-operative Central Banks and as there is a capital investment for the purpose of carrying on such activity and such activity is carried on though with a motive to give service to the farmers, and by taking profit to meet the establishment charges of the society, I am of the view that the Co-operative societies Act comes within the purview of the Industry as defined under Section 2(j) of the Industrial Disputes Act. "Industrial dispute means any dispute or difference between employers and employers, or between employers and workmen, or between workmen and workmen, which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or with the conditions of labour, of any person". Workman is defined under Section 2(s) of Industrial Disputes Act. Under Sec.2(s)(iii) or (iv) a person who is employed mainly in a managerial or administrative capacity or in a supervisory capacity drawing wages more than Rs.1,600/- are not included within the definition of workmen.

Paid Secretaries being the Chief Executives of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies and they are employed in a managerial or administrative capacity, I am of the opinion that the paid secretaries are not workmen within the meaning of Section 2(s)(iii) and (iv) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Other employees of the society who are not employed in the managerial or administrative capacity or employed in a supervisory capacity are workmen and they are entitled to seek the appropriate relief either with regard to the dismissal, retrenchment made contrary to the Industrial Disputes Act by approaching the Labour Court/Industrial Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act. But, the paid secretaries working as Chief Executives of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies (PACS) being commercial establishments under Section 2(5) of A.P. Shops & Establishments Act, they are entitled for the appropriate relief under A.P. Shops & Establishments Act. I have already held that though Section 129 of A.P., Co-operative societies Act states that the provisions of Andhra Area Shops and Establishments Act, 1951 and Telangana Area Shops and Establishments Act, 1958 does not apply to the provisions of A.P., Co-operative societies Act, but there is nothing to show in Section 129 of the Co-operative societies Act that the A.P., Shops & Establishments Act, 1988 has no application. That means, A.P., Shops & Establishments Act is also applicable to Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies Act.

34. The Commercial Establishment as defined under Section 2(5) of the A.P. Shops and Establishments Act,

> 'Commercial establishment' means an establishment which carries on any trade, business, profession or any work in connection with or incidental or ancillary to any such trade, business or profession or which is a clerical department of a factory or an industrial undertaking or which is a commercial trading or banking or insurance establishment and includes an establishment under the management and control of a co-operative society, an establishment of a factory or an industrial undertaking which falls outside the scope of the Factories Act, 1948 (Central Act 63 of 1948), and such other establishment as the Government may, by notification, declare to be a commercial establishment for the purposes of this Act but does not include a shop".

The employee is defined under Section 2(8) of the A.P. Shops and Establishments Act, 1988, which is extracted below:-

> 'Employee' means a person wholly or principally employed in, and in connection with any establishment and includes an apprentice and any clerical or other staff of a factory or an industrial establishment who fall outside the scope of the Factories Act, 1948 (Central Act 63 of 1948); but does not include the husband, wife, son, daughter, father, mother, brother or sister of an employer or his partner, who is living with and depending upon such employer or partner and is not in receipt of any wages".

The definition of workmen under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 under Section 2(s) means, the persons employed in a supervisory capacity drawing wages exceeding one thousand, six hundred rupees per month and the persons employed in a managerial or administrative capacity are excluded within the definition of the workmen. But, as the definition of Section 2(8) of A.P. Shops and Establishments Act, every staff of Industrial Establishment also comes within the purview of the employee. Therefore, even the paid secretaries who are the chief executives of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies comes within the meaning of employees as defined under the A.P., Shops and Establishments Act, 1988.

35. Every employer shall register its establishment under Section 3 of the A.P. Shops and Establishments Act, 1988. Under Section 47 of the A.P. shops and Establishments Act, the employer is entitled to terminate the services of its employee by giving a notice of one month in writing or by paying the wages of one month in lieu thereof and also by paying the compensation amounting to fifteen days average wages for each year of continuous employment. If any termination is made contrary to the provisions of Section 47 of the Act, the aggrieved employees are entitled to approach the authorities, questioning their termination of services under Section 48 of the Act. Therefore, if any termination is made without following the provisions of Section 47 of the A.P., Shops and Establishment Act and Section 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act as the case may be, they have appropriate remedies either under the Industrial Disputes Act or under the A.P., Shops and Establishments Act and also for protection of wages under the Minimum Wages Act apart from having regular remedies by way of appeal or revision under Sections 76 and 77 of the A.P. Co-operative societies Act and the bye-laws and special bye-laws of the concerned societies. Therefore, Section 116-C(1) is mandatory on the part of every society for its compliance so as to enable the concerned societies to implement the relevant laws under the Payment of Minimum Wages Act, the Industrial Disputes Act and under the A.P. Shops and Establishments Act. Even before the provisions of Section 116-C are implemented, it is not open for the petitioners to advance all these arguments contending that they are entitled for the wages without reference to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act on the one hand, and on the other hand that they are also entitled to payment of minimum wages and the protection given to them under the Industrial Disputes Act and the A.P. Shops and Establishments Act, 1988. The paid secretaries being the Chief Executives of the respective societies, they are bound to properly advise the Managing Committee and General Bodies to guide them properly for implementation of the provisions of Section 116-C with regard to fixing of the staffing pattern, pay scales and to obtain the approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies keeping in view of the stipulation that the total expenditure of the pay scales shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less. Only after implementation of the said Section 116-C, the petitioners are entitled for the benefits under the aforesaid relevant Acts and if the society violates any of the said Act, they have appropriate remedies. Therefore, I am of the view that the petitioners are not entitled for any relief in all these writ petitions.

36. Sri V.Ajay Kumar, the learned counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioners relied on the Judgment of the Apex Court in Administrator, Municipal Committee Charkhidari and another Vs. Ramji Lal, Bagla and others[8] and submitted that in the absence of provision for consequence in case of non-compliance with the requirements prescribed would indicate directory nature despite use of word 'shall'. As already stated, for non-implementing the provisions of Section 116-C(1), there is not only a charge on the members of Managing Committee, but also penal action is contemplated against all the concerned and therefore, Section 116-C is mandatory in nature and the said Judgment of the Supreme Court has no application to the facts of this case.

37. Sri V.Ajay Kumar also relied on the Judgment in the case of State of Gujarat and another Vs. High Court of Gujarat[9] and argued that the action of the societies in getting the services of the petitioners without paying salaries, amounts to forced labour and therefore, the petitioners are entitled for payment of reasonable wages as held by the Supreme Court. The Apex Court while dealing with the cases of the prisoners who are undergoing sentence of Simple Imprisonment, Rigorous Imprisonment and the cases of Under Trials, held that it is lawful to employ the prisoners sentenced to Rigorous Imprisonment to do hard labour whether he consents to do it or not. It is open to the Jail Officials to permit other prisoners also to do any work, which they choose to do, provided, such prisoners make a request for that purpose. It is imperative that the prisoners should be paid equitable wages for the work done by them. In order to determine the quantum of equitable wages payable to the prisoners, the State concerned shall constitute a Wage Fixation Body for making recommendations. Until the State Government takes such decision on such recommendations, every prisoner must be paid wages for the work done by them at such rates or the revised rates as the Government concerned fixes in the light of the observations made in the said Judgment, and the Government was directed to fix the rate of such minimum wages. In the context of coming forward by the prisoners to work, the Supreme Court held that the Jail Authorities cannot take forced labour from them without payment of reasonable wages as fixed. Therefore, I am of the view that the principles laid down by the Apex Court in the said Judgment have no application for the questions involved in these writ petitions as without getting the fixation of the staffing pattern, pay scales as approved by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, the petitioners are not entitled to any salaries over and above the expenditure of 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less.

38. The learned counsel for the petitioners also placed reliance on the Judgment of the Apex Court in the case of People's Union for Democratic Rights and others Vs. Union of India and others[10]. The case relates to the workmen engaged in various Asiad projects taken up for the purpose of conducting Asian Games at Delhi. In that context, the Government of India had to embark upon various construction projects which included building of flyovers, stadia, swimming pool, hotels and Asian Games Village Complex. The construction work was farmed out by the Government of India amongst various authorities such as the Delhi Administration, the Delhi Development Authority and the New Delhi Municipal Committee. Writ Petitions were filed by way of Public Interest Litigation that the workmen, working under the Contractors are not getting even the minimum wages and the rights of the workmen and various labour laws are violated. In that context, the Supreme Court held that there was violation of fundamental rights of the workmen. Though the concerned workmen are entitled to approach the Courts for the purpose of enforcement of their fundamental rights, but that cannot absolve the State from its constitutional obligation to see that there is no violation of the fundamental right of such person, particularly, when he belongs to the weaker section of humanity and unable to wage a legal battle against a strong and powerful opponent who is exploiting him. Accordingly, the Apex Court held that the Union of India, the Delhi Administration and the Delhi Development authority are under an obligation to ensure observance of various labour laws by the Contractors and if the provisions of any of those Labour Laws are violated by the contractors, the workmen are entitled to enforce the obligation against the main employer i.e., Union of India, the Delhi Administration and the Delhi Development Authority. The principal employer was the State within the meaning of Article 12 of the Constitution of India and therefore, the Apex Court directed the main employer to enforce the labour laws while giving contracts and if the contractors fails to implement the labour laws, it is their obligation to fulfill the requirement of labour laws.

In the instant case, the paid secretaries of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies have become powerful and dominating the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, they have eaten away the corpus fund, making the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies to incur heavy losses. The societies are not departments, organizations or branches of the Government. Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are independent entities to appoint and retrench its employees and also fix the pay scales and other allowances subject to the restrictions imposed under Section 116-C(1) of the Act. Therefore, I am of the view that the law laid down by the Apex Court is not applicable to these cases as the societies are not States within the meaning of Article 12 of Constitution of India to issue any writ under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

39. The learned counsel for the petitioners also placed reliance in the case of Kapila Hingorani Vs State of Bihar[11]. That was the case decided by the Apex Court relating to the non payment of salaries to the employees of State-owned Corporation and Public Sector Undertakings. The Public Sector Undertakings were not paying salaries to its employees as the State Government was failed to provide the funds. Therefore, the Apex Court held that all those Government companies or corporation referred in the said case are the State within the meaning of Article 12 of the Constitution of India and the State of Bihar having deep and pervasive control over the affairs thereof can be held to be liable to render all assistance to the said companies so as to fulfill its own and/or the corporation's obligations to comply with the citizen's rights under Articles

21 and 23 of the Constitution of India. The Apex Court also held that there is a failure on the part of the State even to enforce the social-welfare legislations enacted, such as Payment of Wages Act, Minimum Wages Act and it is the duty of the State being a welfare State to do all things, which they are statutorily obligated to perform.

40. Admittedly, the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are not funded by the State Government and therefore, it cannot be said that the societies comes within the meaning of the State or other authority under Article 12 of the Constitution of India for issuance of any writ under Article 226 of Constitution of India. In view of the afore said facts and circumstances of the case, the said Judgment only applies to the State Government undertakings, Corporation and projects, but not the non-statutory bodies like Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies.

41. The learned counsel for the petitioners Sri G.V.Shivaji placed reliance in the case of U.P.State Co-operative Land Development Bank Ltd., Vs Chandr Bhan Dubey and others[12] and stated that the writ petition is maintainable against the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies also under Article 226 of Constitution of India as held by the Supreme Court. Admittedly, the persons who have approached the Allahabad High Court are the employees of U.P.State Co-operative Land Development Bank. The Supreme Court also noticed the Full Bench Judgment of this Court in the case of Sri Konaseema Co-operative Central Bank Ltd. Vs. N.Seetharama Raju, AIR 1990 A.P., 171 as to whether writ lies against the Co-operative Societies and whether the society can be characterized as State within the meaning of Article 12 of Constitution of India. The Supreme Court held that there was control over the U.P. State Co-operative Land Development Bank Limited and Sree Konaseema Co-operative Central Bank Limited and the Government have all pervasive control and the employees had statutory protection and therefore, the Bank was an authority or even instrument of the State. In those facts and circumstances of the case, the Apex Court held that the U.P. State Co-operative Central Bank Limited is an authority controlled by the State Government and the service conditions of the employees of the said Bank with regard to the disciplinary proceedings against them are statutory in nature and therefore, writ petition is maintainable against the said Bank. As already stated, there is no financial aid or pervasive control over the functioning of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies and they are independently formed and managed by the societies themselves. Only to help the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, the supervisory staff appointed by the Registrar of Co-operative Societies and the Government are supervising the functions for proper functioning of the societies alone and therefore, I am of the view that the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies will not come within the meaning of State under Article 12 of the Constitution of India.

42. No doubt, the employees are entitled to minimum wages and the employer who cannot pay the minimum wages has no right to engage them and there cannot be any justification to run the industry. Therefore, to pay the minimum wages, it is the duty of the society to implement the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act. Before implementing the said provision, it is not open for its employees to have the grievance of non-payment of minimum wages. They are appointed contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) and therefore, unless their services are regularized in the manner as contemplated under Section 116-C(1), they cannot have any grievance to complain against the implementation of minimum wages.

43. In the case of Nazira Begum Laskar and others Vs. State of Assama and others[13], the Supreme Court held that the termination of Assistant Teachers of Primary Schools whose appointments were contrary to the statutory recruitment rules, though was made against the vacancy position, but the same was not done in accordance with the provisions of the rules, therefore, the said terminations are valid and legal. The appointments to the posts are governed by the set of statutory rules and prescribed procedure therein has not been followed and on the other hand, appointments have been made indiscriminately, immediately after the posts were allotted to different districts at the behest of some unseen hands, such appointments would not confer any right on the appointee nor such appointee can claim any equitable relief from the Court.

44. In the case of Ashwani Kumar Vs State of Bihar[14], the Supreme Court held that as the appointments had been made illegal and contrary to all recognized recruitment procedure and were highly arbitrary, the same were not binding on the State of Bihar. As the initial appoints have been made contrary to the statutory rules, the continuance of such appointees must be held to be totally unauthorized and no right would accrue to the incumbent on that score. The Supreme Court also held that it cannot be said that principles of natural justice were violated or full opportunity was not given to the employees concerned to have their say in the matter before their appointments were recalled and terminated. The said principles laid down by the Apex Court are equally applies to the present cases as the appointments of the petitioners are contrary to the provision of Section 116-C(1) and unless the staffing pattern, pay scales is approved fulfilling the conditions laid down therein, the petitioners cannot complain about the violations of other welfare enactments.

45. In the case of Maharashtra Vikrikar Karamchari

Sangthan Vs. State of Maharashtra and another[15], the Supreme Court held that certain Sales Tax Inspectors were temporarily promoted because no candidates were available for direct recruitment for the posts of Sales Tax Inspectors. Promotions given to the promotees in excess of their quota for the respective unit years were treated as temporary promotions. Therefore, the said promotions made by the Government cannot be treated as regular, but they are temporary/adhoc or stopgap arrangements. The certificates produced by the said promotees stating that their promotions are regular and functioning continuously have no validity. Merely because, some of them have put in more than 17 years of service and when the direct recruitees were either studying or not born in the cadre, the said promotees were pushed down as against the direct recruitees, it cannot be said that it would cause great hardship. As there is a patent violation of quota rule, the result must follow and the promotees who remained in the office for all these years cannot take advantage of their long standing.

46. With regard to the maintainability of these writ petitions against the Primary Agricultural Co-operative societies as to whether the societies are considered to be a State within the meaning of Article 226 of the Constitution of India, the principle laid down by the Supreme Court in the case of Union of India (Railway Board) and others Vs. J.V.Subhaiah and others[16] is relevant. The said case also arose under the Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Act, 1964. The Railway Co-operative Stores were registered under the Andhra Pradesh Co-operative Societies Act as amended from time to time. The Co-operative Stores were organized by the Railway Administration as a welfare measure to inculcate, thrift and cooperative spirit in the management of the Co-operative Societies, distribution of essential commodities and lending of credit facilities etc., to the members of the societies. The societies are formed at Railway junctions and the working of the societies is supervised by the Welfare Officers appointed by the Railway Administration. In that case, 1/3rd members of the societies are nominated by the Railway Administration. The Railway Administration has no control over the selection, appointment and payment of salaries to the staff of the society. Their work is controlled and supervised by the Welfare officers appointed by the Railway Administration, as in the case of Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies, the supervisory staff was appointed by the Commissioner of the Co-operative Societies. While dealing with the similar contentions, the Supreme Court held that such societies organized as a welfare measure to inculcate co-operative movement, self help and thrift among the officers and servants of the Railway Administration entitling them certain benefits. The relevant provisions in the Co-operative Societies Act were also noticed particularly Section 116-C of the Act, which empowers the society with prior approval of the Registrar to fix staffing pattern, qualification, pay scales and other allowances. The rights and liabilities are subject to the bye laws, rules and Act. The Society owes its existence and continuance by its efficient and proper management by the Committee assisted in its day-to-day management by its staff. The relevant Rules 28 and 29 were also noticed and held that the power to prescribe strength of the establishment, appointment of the staff of the society, its officers, employees and servants and their scale of pay are regulated by bye laws, rules and the Act. Disciplinary control lies with the president and the Committee. Appointment of officers, employees and servants of the Society is regulated by the provisions of the Act, rules and the bye-laws as self-contained scheme and code. The Society enjoys autonomy as a body corporate subject to the provisions of the Act, Rules and bye-laws and it enjoys exclusive power to appoint and keep disciplinary control over the staff in its establishment. It was also observed that instructions issued are only to regulate the systematic organization and management of the societies.

In the case of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies also, the service conditions of the employees of the societies are not regulated by the State Government, but they are governed by the bye laws of the societies subject to the control and sanction by the Registrar under the Act or the relevant provisions. There is no obligation on the part of the State Government to provide any financial aid or have any supervision over the management and functioning of the society as long as the societies are acting inconsonance with the Act and rules. Accordingly, the Apex Court held that there is a duel control over the staff by the society and the Registrar, but the Registrar has no role to play in the day-to-day administration of the societies and there is no subsidy given by the State in respect of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. Therefore, the Apex Court held that the Railway employees are not entitled for the regular salaries to be paid by the Railway Administration. Therefore, the principles of equity enshrined under Article 14 of the Constitution does not apply as the officers, employees and servants appointed by the Railway Co-operative Stores/societies cannot be treated on par with the Railway servants nor can they be given parity of status, promotions, scales of pay, increments etc.

47. The Division Bench of this Court in the case of Administration Staff College of India, Hyderabad Vs. D.P.Seshachalam[17], with regard to the maintainability of the writ petition against the Administration Staff College, after considering several decisions of the Apex Court, held that as per the principles laid down by the Supreme Court i n Ramana Dayaram Shetty Vs. International Airport

Authority (1997-II-LLJ-217), for determining whether a Corporation is an instrumentality or an agency, the following tests have to be observed:-

1. One thing is clear that if the entire share capital of the Corporation is held by the Government, it would go a long way towards indicating that the Corporation is an instrumentality or agency of Government.

2. Existence of 'deep and pervasive State control' may afford an indication that the Corporation is a State agency or instrumentality.

3. It may also be a relevant factor whether the Corporation enjoys monopoly status which is State conferred or State protected.

4. If the functions of the Corporation are of public importance and closely related to Governmental functions, it would be a relevant factor in classifying the corporation as an instrumentality or agency of Government.

5. Specifically, if a department of Government is transferred to a corporation, it would be a strong factor supportive of this inference of the Corporation being an instrumentality or agency of Government.

With regard to test No.1 is concerned, the entire share capital of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies is held by its members and the Government is not having any shares in the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies. With regard to test No.2 is concerned, except supervisory jurisdiction for proper functioning as per its aims and objectives, there is no deep or any pervasive

State control over the PACS. With regard to test No.3, the PACS enjoys autonomous status. The functions of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are not closely related to the Governmental functions and therefore, they cannot be classified as instrumentalities or agency of the Government. With regard to test No.5, the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are not Departments of Government and they are not agencies of the Government. The Division Bench held while considering the said decisions that the Administrative Staff College is not a State so as to come within the purview of the other authorities under Article 12 of the Constitution of India, therefore, writ cannot lie. The said principle squarely applies in so far as the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are concerned.

48. In the case of Ch.Ankamma Vs. Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Hyderabad and others[18] , the Division Bench of this Court consisting of His Lordship the then Chief Justice S.B.Sinha and His Lordship Justice V.V.S.Rao, while considering the Judgments of the Supreme Court in the case of U.P.State Co-operative Land Development Bank Limited Vs. Chandra Bhan Dubey (AIR 1999 Sc 753) and Konaseema Co-operative Central Bank Ltd., Amalapuram Vs. N.Seetharama Raju (AIR 1990 AP 171), held that for the purpose of holding that a society or Co-operative Society is a State, one of the criteria that has to be considered is as to whether it discharges any sovereign function. Some amount of control over such societies by the State or some amount of funding would not render the same as the instrumentality or agency of the State. The said Division Bench while reviewing the entire case law on this aspect about the maintainability of the writ petitions against the societies, held that at the instance of the paid secretary whose services were terminated writ cannot be entertained as no public law remedy is available to him in the absence of violation of any statutory regulations.

49. While considering the similar claims of the employees of the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies filed for issuance of writ of mandamus declaring the action of the respondents in not paying the salaries to them as illegal, arbitrary and violative of Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution of India and consequently direct the respondents to pay salaries to them without reference to Section 116-C of the Act; my learned Brother Justice Goda Raguram, in the case of S.Bala Narsaiah and others Vs. State of A.P., and Registrar of Co-operative Societies and others (W.P.No.11445 of 2003), held as follows:-

> "Petitioners claim to be employed as Paid Secretaries of several Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies in Nalgonda district of the State. Section 116-C of the Co-operative Societies Act, 1964 (for short 'the Act') as amended by Act 22 of 2001 ordains that the expenditure of a society towards pay and allowances of its employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the > gross capital in terms of actuals in a year, whichever is less. Consequent on this ceiling of expenditure towards pay and allowances obligated by Section 116-C of the Act, the State Government, Registrar of Co-operative Societies and other officials in the co-operative department have issued circulars requiring several primary agricultural co-operative societies to so restrict the salaries of their employees as to conform with the provisions of Section 116-C of the Act. Without challenging the validity of Section 116-C of the Act, the petitioners seek a direction that they should be paid salaries as were paid in the month of February, 2003 and that they should be continued to be paid the same salaries. These claims are made against primary agricultural co-operative societies. The petitioners' entitlement to salaries from various primary agricultural co-operative societies, which are neither pleaded, urged or demonstrated to be State within the meaning of Article 12 of the Constitution of India, do not have any public law component warranting adjudication under Article 226 of the Constitution of India. The writ petition is accordingly dismissed. No costs."

The said Judgment applies in all force to hold that the petitioners have not demonstrated as to how the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies comes within the purview of the State within the meaning of Article 12 of Constitution of India. The Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies do not have any public law component warranting adjudication under Article 226 of the Constitution of India.

50. For the aforesaid reasons, I am of the opinion that the petitioners are not entitled for any relief in these writ petitions, as such, the repeated contentions advanced by them in various cases have been rejected in the aforesaid decisions. Section 116-C(1) is mandatory in nature and all the societies are bound to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees and get the approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, showing the expenditure towards the pay and allowances not exceeding 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit, in terms of the actuals in a year whichever is less.

51. It is also pertinent to note that the State Government in exercise of its powers for the smooth implementation of Section 116-C(1), issued certain orders in G.O.Ms.No.308, Agriculture and Cooperation (Coop-VI) Department, dated 19-11-2003 and G.O.Ms.No.94, Agricultural and Cooperation (Coop.VI) Department dated 28-2-2004 and G.O.Ms.No.1104, Agricultural and Cooperation (Coop.VI), dated 4-12-2003. The validity of the said Government Orders was also questioned by the A.P., Co-operative Societies Secretaries and Employees Union and my learned Brother Justice Goda Raghuram dismissed the said Writ Petition No.25318 of 2003 on 6-8-2004 and all such similar contentions have been rejected by the learned Judge in the said order.

52. With regard to the delegation of powers of the Registrar under Section 116-C is concerned, as per the orders of the Government in G.O.Ms.No.34, Food and Agriculture (Coop.VI) Department dated 18-1-1989 as amended from time to time, the Special Cadre Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies working as District Co-operative Officers are alone delegated with powers of the Registrar under Section 116-C(1) of the Act in so far as the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are concerned.

53. Sri D.V.Bhadram, learned counsel appearing for some of the petitioners submitted that the Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies in-charge of the Divisions has approved the staffing pattern sand therefore, the said approvals have no authority of law. Though the said Divisional Registrars of Co-operative Societies have approved the staffing pattern, it is not brought to my notice that the said proposals sent by the concerned Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies are not in conformity with the provisions of Section 116-C(1). As the said proposals are in accordance with the stipulations contained under Section 116-C(1), the Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies having without any delegation of powers have approved. If the said proposals are not in conformity or even in conformity with the provisions of Section 116-C, it is open for such of those petitioners to file a revision before the Registrar of Co-operative Societies under Section 77 of the A.P. Co-operative Societies Act if they have any grievance with regard to the proposals submitted by the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies.

54. The sum and substance and the effect of the aforesaid Judgments is only to implement the mandatory provisions of Section 116-C of the Act so as to enable the societies to fix the staffing pattern, qualifications, pay scales and other allowances for its employees with prior approval of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies subject to the condition that the expenditure towards the pay and allowances of the employees shall not exceed 2% of the working capital or 30% of the gross profit in terms of actuals in a year whichever is less. It is mandatory on the part of the respective Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies to fix the staffing pattern, pay and allowances and the expenditure towards the pay and allowances shall not exceed the aforesaid criteria. As long as the provisions of Section 116-C(1) are not implemented and as long as the said mandatory provision is violated, the members of managing committee are not only liable for the surcharge proceedings and also penal action is contemplated apart from implementing the Minimum Wages Act. As such, it is mandatory on the part of the societies to implement the said provisions. Therefore, the Commissioner and Registrar of Co-operative Societies has issued guidelines and circulars from time to time guiding the Primary Agricultural Co-operative Societies to implement the said provision. Therefore, I do not see any illegality either in the guidelines or in the circulars issued from time to time. To implement the said mandatory provision, the concerned societies have to necessarily take appropriate action for fixing the staffing pattern, pay and allowances and in that process, it is open for them to retrench/remove the surplus employees who are working contrary to the provisions of Section 116-C(1) of the Act. If any employee is retrenched or terminated contrary to the provisions of 25-F of the Industrial Disputes Act or 47 of the A.P Shops and Establishments Act as the case may be, it is open for them to seek appropriate reliefs provided under the said Acts.

55. For the aforesaid reasons, I do not see any merits in the writ petitions, and as they are not maintainable, they are accordingly, dismissed. No order as to costs.
